International Stoneworks participates in Coverings education program

March 25, 2014

Houston — International Stoneworks, a natural stone restoration and maintenance business, will present the session, The Essentials of Stone Restoration, at Coverings 2014 in Las Vegas.

Tabbah will present Thursday, May 1, 2014 from 9:15 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. at the Las Vegas Convention Center. He will discuss actual stone restoration and maintenance cases that he experienced on the field over the past 32 years while running his own business. He will review successful cases in stone resurfacing, and audience members can apply these profitable lessons to their own businesses. Tabbah will also cover challenging cases and how these difficult jobs were solved.

Known for its comprehensive speaking and education programs, Coverings 2014 serves as a valuable resource for continuing education for all segments of the industry, all free of charge.

“This is my first time presenting at Coverings and I feel honored that I have been asked to present in the 2014 Education Program, especially on its 25th anniversary,” Tabbah said. “I think the audience can really benefit from a course that actually covers stone restoration and maintenance cases experienced first-hand. I’ve been in business for 32 years and I have dealt with a variety of challenging jobs. I look forward to sharing this knowledge.”
